

Join us in Welcoming our new Fiscal Assistant Kealy

Kealy has joined our team and will be taking on the role of Fiscal Assistant. As Kealy learns the ins and outs of our facility, she will be spending some time each day at the front desk meeting our users and assisting with the day to day tasks of the facility. Currently Kealy is expecting to be at the front desk for a couple hours both the beginning and end of the day, with the mid day hours spent behind the scenes learning the fiscal details. If you see her at the front desk, stop by and introduce yourself. If you need assistance, please be patient as Kealy learns the technical nuances of our operations.

Safety Side Note:

As the weather warms, now is a good time to remind everyone of our shoe and long pant requirements:

Full coverage (closed toe, closed heel) shoes are required in all lab spaces in all NRF facilities.

Long pants are required when working with hazardous materials (strong acids and bases, cryogenic fluids, etc.) and are always required in the Rad Lab building.
